

WITH GERMAN TREATY OUT OF WAY TURKISH DELEGATES ARE RECEIVED BY ALLIED ENVOYS

Presence of Ottoman Representatives Today Purely in Expert Capacity.

LONG TRIP FOR WILSON

President to Spend Three Weeks Touring Country Explaining Peace and League Covenant; Reply to German Notes on Way to Webster Assembly.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, June 17.—The council of 10 of the peace conference received the Turkish peace mission in the clock room of the Quai D'Orsay this morning. The Turkish delegation which was headed by Damad Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier, accompanied by French officers, accompanied by French officers. The Ottoman representatives are here purely in the capacity of experts and today a meeting was for the purpose of setting forth the Turkish situation to the conference. The meeting was quite informal. The members of the council arrived one by one. The Turks were clad in conventional morning clothes and wore fezzes.

The meeting, which was a secret one, lasted an hour. At its close the Turkish representatives returned to Vaucluse under escort. The enemy status of the mission was emphasized by its entering through and departing by different doors from those used by the members of the council.

In his address to the councilors the Turkish grand vizier pleaded that the Turkish people were not to be blamed for the war. He urged that the empire be permitted to remain intact in both Europe and Asia. He promised to submit a memorandum to the council on Friday.

Premier Clemenceau as president of the conference, stated that upon receipt of this memorandum the council would make reply.

PARIS, June 17.—The council of five men this afternoon took up consideration of the remaining clauses in the peace terms with Austria. The council likewise considered other matters requesting its attention before the departure of President Wilson tonight for his trip to Belgium.

PARIS, June 17.—Among the concessions contemplated for Germany in case she signs the peace treaty it was learned today. Is the use of 30 per cent of her merchant ships for two years.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Wilson hopes to leave Paris for Washington on June 24 or 25 if the Germans sign the peace treaty. Immediately after his arrival in Washington the President will address Congress. After clearing up pressing official business he will start on his "swing around the circle" early in July.

It was said at the White House today that the President expected to spend three weeks on his speaking tour, explaining the peace treaty and the League of Nations Covenant. The itinerary has not been announced but he expects to visit the principal cities over the country.

VERSAILLES, June 17.—The reply of the Allied and associated governments to Germany's counter-proposals to the peace treaty and a revised copy of the peace treaty are in the hands of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, who is on his way to Weimar, there to present to the German national assembly the final word of the victors in the war.

Few changes have been made in the revised peace treaty, the original contents of the Allied and associated powers having virtually been maintained intact.

Five days was the allotted period originally fixed for the Germans to answer yes or no to the demands of the Allies. But two days additional have been granted because of the insistence of the German delegation, that not sufficient time had been allowed for proper consideration of the revised terms. The bill will extend the time limit to Monday, June 23.

If Germany's reply is yes, the treaty will be immediately signed, if Germany declines to accede to the demands the armistice will automatically be terminated and the Allied armed forces will take whatever steps they deem requisite to the occasion.

With the revised treaty, containing interdictions in red ink where the changes had been made in it, was a changing note, written by Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace conference. It had been impossible to reprint the treaty in time for its presentation today.

Clemenceau in his note severely rebukes Germany for protesting against the terms on the ground that they violate the terms of the truce. He says Germany fails to understand the position she occupies in the world's estimation for being responsible for the war.

Uniontown Officer Calls Upon All Returned Service Men, of Whatever Branch, to Be Present at Municipal Building at 7:45 in the Evening.

Lieutenant J. C. Donahue of Uniontown has been appointed temporary county chairman of Fayette county for the purpose of calling a meeting of all honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines in Fayette county who served during the period between April 1917, and November 11, 1918.

The American Legion was formed for the purpose of mutual help and comradeship of the men who served during the World War now so happily ended, and in its preamble its object is stated thus:

For God and country we associated ourselves together for the following purposes:

To uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America, to maintain law and order, to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism, to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War to inculcate a sense of mutual obligation to the community state and nation, to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses, to make right master of might, to promote peace and good will on earth, to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy, to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

The American Legion is absolutely non-partisan and Article 3 of its constitution positively states that it shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles or for the promotion of the candidacy of any person seeking public office or preferment.

COUNCIL VOTES APPROVAL OF NEW GARBAGE MEASURE

Bill Passed Last Night Becomes Law at End of Three Days.

RATES ARE ESTABLISHED

Collection and Removal Will Be in Hands of Authorized Agents Who Must Pay in Advance License Fee of $150 a Year; Penalties Provided.

The revised garbage ordinance introduced in city council April 14 by Councilman C. W. Little, head of the Department of Parks and Public Property, was adopted at the adjourned meeting last evening without a dissenting vote. The measure becomes effective in three days after its passage which would be Friday morning, insofar as the enforcement is concerned.

The measure defines garbage, fixes the rate for collection thereof by authorized persons and provides penalties for failure to abide by its regulations. Persons or firms engaging in garbage removal are required to pay a license fee of $150 per year in advance. Wagons and other means of transportation used by the collectors are subject to approval by the superintendent of Parks and Public Property. Under the ordinance it is required that the purchasing agent of the city shall on the first day of each year advertise for bids for the collection and removal of garbage. This time having passed it is expected that council will make adequate provision.

Throwing of garbage on streets or in alleys or on public grounds of the city or in the river or any streams running through the city is prohibited. This is a practice that the health authorities and council have been trying to break up of late. Every family producing garbage is required.

RATIFICATION OF SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT IS CERTAIN TO WIN

Republican State Organization is Back of Governor Sprout on the Important Measure.

HARRISBURG, June 17.—The ratification of the suffrage amendment is certain to win in the legislature. After a conference at the executive mansion last evening in which Governor Sprout, Senator Penrose and Senator Crow participated a joint resolution providing for the ratification of the suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution was introduced in the Senate and referred to the Judiciary General committee. This is in harmony with the statement of Governor Sprout last Thursday that the amendment would be ratified.

Soon after this conference adjourned Governor Sprout sent for Mrs. J. O. Miller and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot leaders of the suffrage movement in the state and informed them that ratification of the suffrage amendment was assured.

The resolution was introduced into the Senate about 10 o'clock last night by Senator Byrne. The measure was referred to the Judiciary General committee and reported a short time later. It was then read a first time and will come in its regular order for second reading some time today.

At this rate it will go to the House next week possibly Monday. With Governor Sprout and all of the Republican leaders working in harmony the ratification vote is expected to be overwhelming in both branches.

COKE TRADE PROGRESS.

The resumption in part of the Davidson coke plant, and other additions to the producing list of ovens during the past two weeks, are not, as seems to be the mistaken impression in some quarters, evidences of a speedy or early return to normal operating conditions in the Connelville region. These activities, as operators view them, are merely proof that the course of the coke trade has taken an upward trend after a more or less steady decline which began with the last week in January.

During that period it was a race between the constantly dwindling needs of consumers and the efforts of producers to so curtail production that a large surplus of coke would not accumulate in the region, the effect of which would have been to still more completely demoralize the market. By adhering resolutely to the policy adopted at the outset of the slump the producers about three weeks ago succeeded in so adapting operation to consuming demands that all accumulated stocks were cleared up, price getting was halted and production was limited to the requisitions on existing contracts.

In applying restrictive measures the furnace oven interests were the most drastic, more of their plants and ovens being put out of blast or banked than of the merchant interests, the net result being that only about 30 per cent of the former were contributing to coke production as compared to 40 to 50 per cent of the latter.

When evidences became manifest that more coke was needed at the furnaces the oven plants which are subsidiary to the iron and steel interests were the first to increase the number of active ovens. The merchant producers felt the stimulus in much slighter degree and found it necessary to add comparatively few ovens to the producing list as compared with the several hundred added by the H. C. Frick Coke company. This firing up of ovens at Davidson and elsewhere is but another step in the direction of providing for the somewhat augmented needs of the furnaces of the United States Steel Corporation as they are being slowly blown in after idleness for repairs. While this is an indication of somewhat better conditions in the trade the present greater activity is not regarded as proof that we are on the eve of a coke boom. It is realized that the mid-summer dull period in iron and steel is yet to come and while there has been a perk up such improvement can be taken to be more a sign of a revival to begin with early fall rather than as having already set in.

Comparatively few people, outside of the coke trade, have fully comprehended just how nearly the region approached complete suspension some weeks ago. With only 30 per cent of the ovens in blast, and all running on short time, production had reached a level unprecedented in the history of the region when any attempt was being made to keep up a semblance of operation. Any change towards greater activity has, therefore, been very noticeable.

Trustworthy signs are not wanting that the coke trade will assume larger proportions with the early fall, and may even develop a certain degree of improvement meantime, but the cautious operators are not looking for anything other than a gradual and orderly progressive gain when the time for such a growth has arrived.

NEED OF BUSINESS GOVERNMENT.

It is high time the government was waking to the fact that we cannot continue to do peace business on a war-cost basis or on a war-time scale of prodigal expenditure. Common sense and rigid economy, as both were practiced in private business before the war, and are now being practiced, are imperatively needed in government business.

The sage observation of Benjamin Franklin, "Gain may be temporary and uncertain, but expense is constant and certain," has the same meaning that it had when uttered, but if the wise philosopher of early days were now alive he would doubtless amend his business truism by adding, "thanks to government extravagance and new-fangled ideas and experiments." In fact, we are discovering that the economic cost of peace is almost as heavy as the economic loss of war.

In the situation in which the country finds itself it would have been infinitely more sensible if the government had done something to put a check upon expenditures, under a proper budget, instead of vainly trying to stabilize the prices of commodities. Every unjustified and reckless expenditure of the people's money—of which there has apparently been no heavy burdens of the taxpayers, increasing the steadily rising cost of living, and exacting in other direct and indirect ways tribute from those who can ill spare their earnings for a paternalistic government to squander in doubtful experiments and often not needed enterprises.

The fact that seven months after the signing of the armistice the war expenses of the United States have continued at almost the war-time rate demands prompt and vigorous measures of retrenchment and economy. In the month of April, the government's expenditures, with practically one-half of the Army demobilized, were approximately $1,429,000,000, as contrasted with $1,190,000,000 in the month of February. In May, with almost a third of a million more men discharged from military service, the expenditures were $1,096,000,000. These figures ought to emphasize the need, even if the public does not give expression to it, that the time is here when some measure of economy must be applied to the expenditure of the people's money.

There is hope, though, that the Congress now in session will not long delay giving attention to the fact that so long as the government cannot transact its own business on a businesslike basis, it cannot be expected to conduct the many private business enterprises it has taken over under the guise of war-time necessity with other than disastrous results, and that what the country needs most of all at this time is not government business, but business government.

While no officer who served with the 110th Infantry is more deserving to be honored with the Distinguished Service Medal with bronze leaf in recognition of heroism and efficiency in action than is Lieutenant Colonel Martin, he is the kind of an officer who feels that the men serving under him, rather than he himself, are entitled to the distinction conferred upon him.

The Third War with Mexico is the shortest in history—only 21 hours from the time General Erwin's brigade crossed the Rio Grande until it licked the far out of the Villa bandits, then marched back again.

According to the announcement from Paris the wheels are not to be removed from the capital even after the signing of the peace treaty. Already a swing around the circle is planned in the interests of the League of Nations. "See America go!" is apparently the slogan of the official touring party.

With Ohio, New York and Kansas joining the suffrage procession yesterday the last Pennsylvania can do is to secure seventh place, and the Legislature will have to act promptly to gain that honor.

For the twentieth time Germany has been given so many days in which to say yes or no, or to start some new negotiations, or make a new bluff. One guess is as good as another as to what the Huns will do.

Leave it to "Tiger" Clemenceau to call the acts of Germans in the war by their right names.

Plainly General Erwin prefers quick chasing to "watchful waiting."

Connellsville suffers the loss of another of its useful, faithful and much respected citizens, and the R. & O. veterans will miss a loyal comrade from their ranks in the death of John F. Reynolds.

Queenia Roosevelt's Prayer.

When the personal affairs of Queenia Roosevelt were returned to his father's home at Oyster Bay, the following prayer, a copy of which was sent to Mrs. Fletcher Barker, a Minneapolis, Minn., by a neighbor of the Roosevelt family, was found in a private book of hers:

Teach us, good Lord, to serve Thee as Thou desirest us to live and not to count the cost; to fight and not to heed the wounds; to toil and not to seek for rest; to labor and not to ask for any reward, save that of knowing that we do Thy will; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

A Mockery of Peace.

Thought of Germany as a member of the league properly is highly offensive. The smell of blood still is on her hands. The smoke hardly has blown away from the towns she has burned. To sit down with such a nation when there is no pretense of remorse is profoundly abhorrent. It seems a mockery of the peace and to compromise honor. So emotions arise against what looks like a betrayal.

As The Black Diamond has had frequent occasions to point out the foolish desire manifested by certain theorists at Washington to take over the coal industry and run it just as the railroads have been taken over and run into the ground is based wholly on the hypothesis that the coal producers, the jobbers and the retailers are a set of rogues and incompetents.

It goes to show how little those who would "nationalize," as they choose to call it, know about the coal industry, that industry of those who constitute it, but, then, it is always those who know nothing about what they desire to reform, who are obsessed with the desire to tinker with and experiment with their theories as to how any business should be conducted.

It is urged as an argument in behalf of the "nationalization" of coal, oil and gas, that it is necessary in order to secure a more general distribution of those basic products, to prevent monopoly through combinations and to put upon an equitable basis the price of products to the consumer as well as to adjust the wages of men engaged in the production of coal and other basic raw materials.

His Place in the Sun control of the railroads has been an increase in wages to railroad trainmen. Such enormous advances as were made may have been justified but there is a lurking suspicion that a part of such advances were granted for political effect only. And in the end what has been the result? Only within the last few days the public has been told that it will be necessary to make a horizontal raise in freight rates of fifteen per cent. That is an example of what has been accomplished under government control of the railroads "in adjusting the price of products to the consumer"—the public has once more become the goat. The taste of government ownership which has brought the railroads to the verge of bankruptcy, has, it is believed, cured the public of any appetite it may have had for government ownership in the future. It knows it has to pay for such experiments and is becoming wearied and sick of high sounding phrases.

During the war, the whole personnel of the industry felt it to be a patriotic duty to accept government regulation of the industry and to cheerfully comply with whatever regulations and restrictions might be imposed, but now that the emergency has passed, the coal men of the country no longer see the necessity for submitting themselves to the yoke of paternalism, especially when no cogent reason is advanced for shackling and fettering them as if they had committed or were about to commit some heinous crime, or treating them as if they were disobedient children.

Yet the reformers, if such they can be called, and the politicians too, for that matter, must have something to reform and having had their fingers on the coal industry they are loath to loosen their grip, considering it a fit object of prey. That may seem to be a somewhat narrow view to take of so important a question, but the failure of government railroad control and the utter incompetency shown must be so patent to all as to convince beyond the peradventure of a doubt as to the utter fallacy of the argument advanced of the great and glorious benefits to be derived from nationalizing the coal industry.

Second Operation Necessary.

William McCashin, who underwent an operation at the Mercy hospital, Pittsburg, is not recovering very rapidly. He will have to undergo a second operation.

REAL STRENGTH.

There are days when skies are sunny, there are days when skies are gray. There are times when joy and laughter dim the happliest of our way. Then the clouds begin to gather, and the doubts and fears arise, And the tears of grief and sorrow dim the happliest of our way. Oh, then you need your courage and it's then you must depend On your faith in God above you, to sustain you to the end.

You can live your days of sunshine all unalloyed and alone, You can share with men the pleasures and the sorrows of your own. You can whistle cheery snatches of songs gay and luring song When the sun is high above you and there's nothing much that's wrong. But when darkness settles round you, and when death is at the door, Man has not the strength to give you that your soul is crying for.

When the world is at its brightest life's an easy thing to live, From the store of mortal gladness we can take and we can give. But I notice when our burdens seem too much for us to bear Then we seek Divine assistance by the avenue of the prayer. And we calmly face our trials and we suffer every test. If the voice of faith shall tell us that whatever is, is best.

BOTH PHONES

GREAT RECORD MADE BY ADRIAN C. ANSON

Played for Twenty-Two Years
With the Same Team.

Was Manager of Chicago Club for Longer Period Than Any Other
Leader—Was an Active Player While Acting as Head.

There are records and yet more records in baseball—but what player will ever duplicate two records, both held by the same man—the honors held by Adrian C. Anson? They point proudly to the batting marks that Uncle made—the way he peled that apple through the year—but the historians seem to overlook these two talented features of Anson's great career.

He stayed longer in the service of a single club than any other man that ever wore the spikes—and he was manager of the same club for a longer stretch of time than any other man ever managed a ball club before or since.

Anson played continuously with the Chicago team from the spring of 1879 to the fall of 1897—22 years under one banner. Never has any other man ever approximated that length of service, least of all without at least one change of posture.

Anson managed the Chicago club for 19 seasons—and nobody, before or since, has come anywhere near that managerial record. Moreover, Anson was an active player all the time—never did any of his directing from the bench. He became an institution in Chicago—something that was taken for granted; something the citizens assumed belonged there forever, and was as much a portion of the scenery as the Masonic temple, the stock yards or the lake front.

DIAMOND NOTES

San Johnson has not issued a statement in weeks.

Columbus has released Outfielder Chick Farrell to Terre Haute of the Three I.

Galveston released Infielder Cronston, and he was at once taken by San Antonio.

King Lear is to be retained by the Cubs, now that the club is allowed 25 players.

Bobby Stow having returned to the Fort Worth team, Manager Jakey Alt has benched himself.

The Browns flashed the first triple steal in the majors this year. Slater, Williams and Demmitt were the burglars.

Newkirk, the Bloomington pitcher hailed as a wonder from the Pacific coast, lasted one inning in his first game.

Radlen is doing great work behind the bat for Fat Moran. McGraw may be sorry he let him go before the season is over.

Not many managers have declared their clubs in as pennant winners yet. The war has worked more reform than one.

High, center fielder for the Brant Three-Eye team, was the only man in the league to get three hits on the opening day.

Grover Alexander's picture shows a 90-pound pack on his sturdy back. They don't issue packs in the Shipbuilders' league.

Billy Evans says a batter cannot take his base on a ball. We've seen some pitchers who could barely make first on four balls.

Manager Patsy Flaherty of the Colonels has a new pitcher by the name of Friday, who has been dubbed "Fish" by his teammates.

Eddie Almsmith is hitting like Ty Cobb these days because he copies Ty's style. Funny, with Ty in the league all these years, Almsmith couldn't have seen him before.

Tearing ribs loose seems to be a bad habit with Salt Lake pitchers. Adolph Shinkle is the latest to suffer the ailment that is almost chronic with "See" fingers.

DECISION BY BYRON

Here's a decision by Umpire Bill Byron in a Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game as reported by a correspondent: Meusel was on third and Cravath on first and 'ood out; Baird tapped to Cuthaw, who ran up the line, tagged Cravath between second and first, making the second out; and then stepped on first before Baird could reach the bag. In the meantime Meusel had crossed the plate. Now comes Byron to announce to the press box that Meusel's run counted. At least, so says the detail of the game, which is taken for what it is worth pending an explanation from the singing umpire.

KEEP EYES ON FRANK FRISCH

Fordham Baseball Star Being Watched by League Scouts—Is Playing Great Game.

Big league scouts are keeping their eyes on Frank Frisch, the Fordham football and baseball star. Frisch plays shortstop for the Bronx institution, and is playing great ball against all comers. In a recent game against the Baltimore International Frisch hit two doubles, a triple and a single in five times up.

Baseball enthusiasm in the East has been duplicated in the West, and the games played so far in the Pacific Coast league have packed the parks.

Ray Fisher of the Cincinnati Reds, formerly with the New York Americans has the honor of pitching the first three-hit game in the major leagues this season.

FRED LUDERUS AND GEORGE WHITTED GET BONUSES AS CAPTAIN OF THE PHILLIES

Captains of Philadelphia Team.

Fred Luderus, first baseman for the Phillies, lost his job as field captain of the Phillies this season, but it was not because Manager Jack Coombs thought any the less of him. George Whitted held out for $500 more than President Baker of the Phillies was willing to pay. Baker adopts a sliding scale of salaries and nothing can move him from his fixed determination about the proper wage for every athlete.

Whitted irrefragable. When Whitted proved to be an irrefragable Baker compromised with himself by offering him the job of field captain, which carries a standard $500 bonus. Whitted accepted. Then came Luderus. He had been promised the field captaincy, but Baker had forgotten the fact. Luderus demanded to know whether the club president was a man of his word, and Baker naturally asserted that he was. He again compromised with himself by reflecting that he intended to pay Luderus a certain lump sum, anyhow, and Luderus will get that sum. Thus Luderus receives a captain's pay without a captain's responsibilities, whatever they are, and Whitted gets his price and whatever glory is attached to the captain's berth.

Luderus From Milwaukee. Luderus was born in Milwaukee on September 2, 1888. He has been with the Phillies ever since he joined them in 1910, prior to which year he was with the Chicago Nationals for a minute or two in 1909. He was thought to be about through when he battled 248 in 1914, but he took a new lease on life when Pat Moran became manager of the Falls in 1905, and helped the Falls to win the pennant that year by batting .315.

Luderus has always been a better first baseman than the public understood, a conclusion based upon observation and statistics.

WAR DEPARTMENT EXPENDITURES TO BE FULLY PROBED

House Committee Believes Nation Has Right to Know Everything.

SAVE FUTURE MISTAKES

Investigation and Publicity Will Result in Cutting Off Much Unnecessary Waste That Is Still Continuing Long After the War Has Ended.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Chairman Graham of the House committee on expenditures in the War Department has issued the following statement as to the purposes and scope of the investigation which his committee will conduct into the administration of the War Department:

"It is the purpose of this committee to proceed to a careful and complete audit of all the expenditures of the War Department during the present war, including the expenditures that are now continuing. During the war vast sums of money were appropriated for the uses of the War Department without itemization. It was necessary, owing to the emergency of the war, to trust to the discretion of the War Department the proper investment of these funds. Now that a state of peace is practically existing a careful audit and investigation of these expenditures ought to be made. The reasons are patent. The people have a right to know and will know, as a result of this investigation, how these vast sums were expended. It is manifest, also, that from such an investigation it will be possible for our country in the future to guard against the mistakes and waste which doubtless have taken place during the war.

"I am informed that today the expenditures in the War Department are practically as large as during the continuance of the war, and I have no doubt a careful investigation and publicity of present-time conditions will result in cutting off much useless expense and unnecessary waste of public funds. The country expects us to get back to a normal basis at the earliest possible time and to practice every economy that is possible. Nothing will help toward economy so much as a public knowledge of conditions as they actually exist. I may say incidentally that if in this investigation it is found that there have been men or corporations who have been taking advantage of the necessities of our country to enrich themselves and to make undue exactions from the government, this investigation will doubtless disclose their identity, and they must suffer the consequences. The work of the committee will be fair, just, impartial and nonpartisan, and will be conducted solely for the purpose of informing the people of the facts.

"It is our purpose to divide the work into subdivisions. A tentative subdivision of this work would be committees on aviation, ordnance, quartermaster's department, camps and cantonments, and expenditures in foreign countries.

"I think from present indications we will be prepared for public hearings, perhaps, by Monday, June 23."

MEYERSDALE.

MEYERSDALE, June 16.—The Victory carnival which was held last week under the auspices of the Meyersdale Fire company came to a close Saturday night. The entertainments given by the Allied Expedition shows were all very good and enjoyed by big crowds. The pony given by the firemen to the most popular boy or girl having the most votes was won by Marion Gidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Gidd. A five-passenger Briscoe touring car was also given away Saturday night. The lucky person being A. B. Stark. This was the same car that was to have been given away last August at the Firemen's convention which was called off by the Federal Fuel Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rohrbaugh of Hanover, Pa., motored here Saturday and remained until Sunday, guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lint. They were accompanied on the return trip by Miss Clara Stoen, who will visit in Hanover for several weeks.

Mrs. John Bain of Johnstown is visiting her mother, Mrs. Margaret Dunn.

Mrs. Emma Diehl of Bedford is here for a few weeks' visit with her daughter, Miss Mae Diehl.

Misses Marie Grady of Cumberland and Blanche Grady of Lonsdale spent Saturday and Sunday here with their uncle, Rev. Father Brady.

Unknown's Bullet Fatal.

George Gatzko, 24 years old, died Sunday night in the Brownsville hospital, of a gunshot wound in the abdomen, inflicted Saturday night by an unknown man.

The ordinance in full reads: SECTION 1.—That for the purpose of this Ordinance, the word "garbage" shall be held to include kitchen and table refuse, offal, general combustible waste, paper and paper products, boxes, berry boxes, chips, sawdust and every accumulation of both animal and vegetable matter that attains the preponderant decay, or falling in storage of meat, fish, fowl, birds or vegetables, but not dish water or waste water.

Section 2.—All garbage and other accumulations of noxious animal or vegetable matter, hereafter collected and disposed of within the limits of this city, shall be contained in the city garbage furnace. Provided, however, that all crockery, glass, glass bottles, tin cans and ashes shall be excluded from the receptacles used for storing the garbage, but shall be handled and removed, free of charge, with the said garbage.

No accumulation mentioned in this section shall be burned upon any street or alley, common or public grounds, or upon any premises in the open air within the limits of said city, or deposited or left exposed on private property.

All such garbage shall be collected and transported so that no part thereof shall be spilled or fall upon any street or public property.

Section 6.—Every person, firm or corporation in the City producing garbage shall have it removed in the manner provided in this Ordinance, shall provide a suitable garbage can to be approved by the Superintendent of Parks and Public Property, in which said garbage shall be deposited as it is made or produced, and a separate receptacle in which shall be deposited all crockery, glass, bottles, tin cans, and other like articles.

GREATER SHEESLEY SHOWS COMING TO CITY JUNE 23

tractions and the assembling of the rides including the whip, carousel and ferris wheel will take place, so that all will be in readiness for the opening Monday night. All of the shows are novel, unique and out of the ordinary for traveling organizations of this kind. The menagerie of trained wild animals is the big feature and the acts presented none are mediocre. Louis Roth and his group of six big lions heading the list.

HAS ENOUGH OF FRANCE

Will Do to Read About, But not the Place for a Look to Live.

Herbert (Mike) Baker of Peckin arrived home from Camp Sherman Saturday afternoon and received a royal welcome at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Baker, and his many friends. He is looking fine.

Like all the other boys who have arrived from overseas, he is not in love with France. He says France will do to read about but when that is said all is said. He wants no more of Europe, but because of his visit abroad he is better able to appreciate his own country which, he says, is by far the best on earth.

Richard Le Gallienne

COPYRIGHT BY DOUBLEDAY PAGE & COMPANY

"Did it, by Jove!" he exclaimed in a beautiful English accent, and then started laughing at only absurd dandy youngsters came."

"Forgive me!" he said, as soon as he could get his breath, "but I had to do it. Heaven knows what the old man will say."

"You're something of a long jump!" said Charlie.

"Oh! I have done my twenty-two and an eighth on a broad running jump, but I had no chance for a run there," answered the lad, carelessly.

"But suppose you'd hit the water instead of the deck?"

"What of it? Can't one swim?"

"I guess you're all right, young man," said Charlie, softened; "but well, we're not taking passengers."

The words had a familiar sound. They were the very ones I had used to Tobias, as he stood with his hand on the gunwale of the Maggie Darling. I rapidly conveyed the coincidence—and the difference—to Charlie. It struck me as odd, I'll admit, that our second start, in this respect, should be so like the first. Meanwhile, the young man was answering, or rather pleading, in a boyish way.

"Don't call me a passenger; I'll help work the boat. I'll tell the truth, heard—never mind how—about your trip, and I'm just nutty about buried treasure. Come, be a sport. We can let the old guy nor know, somehow . . . and it won't kill him to tear his hair for a day or two. He knows I can take care of myself."

"Well! said Charlie, after thinking awhile in his slow way, "we'll think it over. You can come along till the morning. Then I can get a good look at you. If I don't like you, look at you, still be able to put you off at West End; and if I do—well—right! Now, boys," he shouted, "go ahead with the sails."

Once more there was that rippling of the ropes through the blocks, as our maulsail rose up high against the moon—and filled proudly with the steady northeast breeze we had been waiting for.

So two or three hours went by, as we plunged on, to the seething sound of the water, and the singing of our sails, and all the various rumor of wind and sea. After all, it was a good music to sleep to, and for all my scorn of sleeping landmen, an irresistible drowsiness stretched me out on the roof of the little cabin, wonderfully rocked into forgetfulness.

My nap came, to an end suddenly, as though some one had rung me out through a door of blue and gold into a new-born world. There was the sun rising, the moon still on duty, and the morning star, divinely naked, in the heaven.

out hesitation, dived into the great glassy rollers.

But Charlie was quick, too. Like a flash he grabbed one of the boy's ankles, so that the beautiful dive was spoiled; and there was the boy, hanging by an imprisoned leg over the ship's side, a helpless captive—his arms in the water and his leg struggling to get free. But he might as well have struggled against the grip of Hercules. In another moment Charlie had him hauled aboard again, his eyes full of tears of boyish rage and humiliation.

"You young fool!" exclaimed Charlie. "The water round here is thick with sharks; you wouldn't have gone fifty yards without one of them getting you."

"Sharks!" gasped the boy, contemptuously. "I know more about sharks than you do."

"You seem to know a good many things I don't," said Charlie, whose grumpiness had evidently relaxed a little at the lad's display of mettle. "Meanwhile, my temper was beginning to rise on behalf of our young passenger."

"I tell you what, Charlie," I interposed; "if you are going to keep this up, you'd better count me out on this trip and set us both ashore at West End. You're making a fool of yourself. The lad's all right."

The boy shot me a warm glance of gratitude.

"All right," agreed Charlie, beginning to lose his temper, too. "I'm damned if I don't. And, his hand on the tiller, he made as if to turn the boat about and tack for the shore."

"No!" cried the boy, springing between us and appealingly laying one hand on Charlie's shoulder, the other on mine. "You mustn't let me spoil your trip. I'll compromise, and skipper. I'll tell your friend here all there is to tell—everything—I swear—if you will leave it to his judgment."

"Right-o!" agreed Charlie at last; so our passenger and I thereupon withdrew for our conference.

It was soon over and I couldn't help laughing aloud at the simplicity of it all.

UNCLE SAM INTERESTED IN PINKER CHEEKS AND BRIGHTER EYES FOR ALL HIS WOMEN.

Cond. JULIUS KAHN

Sounding the need of recreational camps where health-giving instruction and entertainment may be given to the building up of women who need conditioning more than medicine, Julius Kahn, Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, has introduced in the House a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to grant the use of land and camp equipment to the United States Training Corps for Women, which has done marvelous work in the physical uplift of war workers in Washington.

The bill is designed to promote and maintain the health of American womanhood and the camps are to be located in the west, in the northern central states, in the south, and in the east and all to be under proper medical and nursing supervision.

Every American woman and child will be given an opportunity to go to these camps and indulge in regular setting up exercises and semi-military training with correct posture and deep breathing, so essential in the promotion of mental and moral discipline, quickness of perception, accuracy of mental processes and clearness of thought.

The United States Training Corps for Women is the brain product of Susanna Cocroft, the Chicago Physical Culturist, but more recently the physical culture teacher of Uncle Sam's women war workers.

The organization is backed by President Wilson, members of the cabinet and other high government officials, both army and navy.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson will be the general medical director, keeping a close connection with each cantonment. In these cantonments the women and girls will be able, for a small sum, to spend not only a cheap and enjoyable vacation, but a vacation which will send them back to their work built up in health and with a new accuracy of mental processes and clearness of thought.

In one of the cantonments there will be a school to train teachers for this work.

It is expected Representative Kahn's bill will become a law before the hot summer months set in and that the women will be in training before the season is over.

Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, has also offered his services and will be in charge of the hygiene at the camps.

BLACK HANDERS

GIVEN 18 YEARS

Hottest Sentence in Years Meted Out to Italian Who Slew a Fellow Countryman.

GREENSBURG, June 17.—By far the harshest sentence pronounced in the local criminal courts in years was passed on Saturday upon Domenico, the Mount Pleasant Italian, convicted of second degree murder during the present term of court. Judge A. D. McConnell sentenced the prisoner to serve a term of not less than 18 years nor more than 20 years in the Western penitentiary.

The defendant was a member of the black hand society at Mount Pleasant and was directed to get rid of an Italian resident of Mount Pleasant who had incurred the enmity of the organization. Four members of the society appeared at the trial and made a clean breast of the workings of the murderous band.

Andy McManis and Elsie May Huff, of Mount Pleasant township, who pleaded guilty to living together as man and wife, were sentenced to pay a fine of $30 each, the costs and stand committed until the sentence is complied with.

Ralph Rodgers, who pleaded guilty to having broken into the stable of Riley Lewis of Mount Pleasant township on the night of May 16, and stealing two horses, was fined $10, the costs and sent to the workhouse for 60 days. The prisoner lives at Alice mines. The horses were recovered.

Carl Grimm, 22 years old, of near Scottsdale, was before the court on having forged several checks on his father, in this way getting money on which to get drunk. His father, however, was here to plead for leniency for his son. The court accordingly paroled the prisoner in the care of Chief of Police Frank McCudden of Scottsdale for one year.

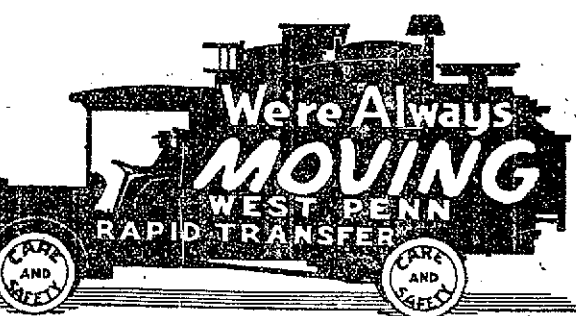

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

Beautiful Service Rendered at Methodist Church at Perryopolis.

Children's Day featured the services at the Methodist church at Perryopolis Sunday night, a splendid program by the children, under the direction of Mrs. R. T. Kameron, superintendent of the primary department, and a beautiful pageant, in charge of Mrs. W. C. Townsend, being presented. The pageant followed the program of songs, recitations and dialogues, with the following young women representing the different countries:

"Columbia," Miss Alice Stiller; "China," Miss Martha Buttermore; "Japan," Miss Mabel McWilliams; "Hungary," Miss Amber Martin; "Poland," Miss Edna Ritenour; "Italy," Miss Goldie Frantz; "Armenia," Miss Pearl Keck; "Syria," Miss Bertha Johnson; "India," Miss Anna Duff; "Hindu," Miss Ruth Bryan; "Jewish Girl," Miss Esther Thorpe; "Mountain Girl," Miss Mary Johnson. The flag bearers were Craig Martin and Lois Slocum. The church choir girls were attired in white and carried Christian flags. A collection of $26.11 was taken. The cancelling of the services at the Christian church by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Wharton, so that his members could attend the exercises was greatly appreciated by the Methodist congregation.

Conditions not only put you in the discard, a system weakened by overwork and care-less living brings old age prematurely. The bodily functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. PORKERS SWIM BAY TO ESCAPE BUTCHERS

Three Hundred Pigs, in Mutiny, Attack Swineherds in San Francisco.

Three hundred pigs rebelled on the Army street wharf at San Francisco against the fate that caused them to be born to be pork.

They were on the way to a slaughter house, where their Gabriel stood ready with his bayonet.

The prominent opinion is that beyond its food a pig has no thoughts, but three leaders of the consignment, sensing after the path that led to markets butchers' shops and pork products, attacked the swineherds and forced them to cry for help.

When it appeared that the rebellion must be put down the three leaders decided to chance it in the bay. They leaped from the wharf, and about a ton of pork apparently was lost for ever.

But two boatloads of sailors of the merchant marine, out on a boat drill, saw the swimming pigs and decided to keep down the price of pork.

William Spillane, chief petty officer aboard one of the boats, was pulled into the bay by one of the pigs. Jerome Erickson, a seaman, jumped in and rescued his chief.

But the three pigs—they swam away and were seen no more.

VICTUALS FOR VILLAGES

Motor Trucks Have Great Advantage Over Airships.

Revictualing the starving towns and villages of northern France by dropping parcels of food and clothing from the skies has a romantic glamour about it that makes people overlook the business details of freight transportation by airship.

Matter-of-fact persons who plumed their faith in the humble motor truck find their views amply vindicated by a bill of expense incurred by 15 airships which recently carried 3,000 pounds of supplies 250 miles from Le Bourget to Mauthouze and Valenciennes. It cost just over $1 for each pound of merchandise carried, whereas by motor truck the cost would not have exceeded $100 for the whole trip, or 3 cents a pound. It seems the motor truck has a big start on the airship in the matter of cost of hauling.

Couple That Were 2,500 Miles Apart Were Wedded.

A 2,500-mile strand of No. 8 copper wire was used by Robert Thomas of Denver to tie the nuptial knot that bound himself in wedlock the other day with Miss Rose Thomas, a school-teacher of Ashland, Ore.

The wedding was solemnized over a long-distance telephone between Denver and Ashland when the bride, accompanied by her brother, A. W. Thomas, and his wife, as witnesses, went to the local telephone exchange. The bridegroom at Denver put the call through and the Rev. James Thomas, a Denver clergyman, read the necessary service, which was heard distinctly by all present in Ashland.

PRACTICALLY everyone knows something of the work of Luther Burbank, the plant wizard. He has amazed the world with his experiments and discoveries. All attempts to induce Burbank to take the lecture platform have failed so the next best thing is to present Henry A. Adrian, his intimate friend and fellow student. Production is a keynote of the reconstruction period. For this reason the Chautauqua lecture by Mr. Adrian will be one of the most valuable features of the entire week. In company with Burbank he has succeeded in wonderfully increasing the productivity of the soil in conquering plant enemies, in training old plants to new habits and in inventing new plants. The accomplishment of this task makes a story more wonderful than the Arabian Nights, more thrilling than the Ben Hur chariot race, and more informing than many a text book.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted three score years and ten, to look back over the days that are gone and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I see myself in the little drug store I owned at Solvay, N.Y., and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and customers—which was then known as Dr. Lewis' Medicine for Coughs, Colds and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the laxatives and cathartics on the market and became convinced that their main fault was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent and drastic, and upset the system of the user, which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some simply acting on the upper small intestine, while others would act only on the lower or large intestine, and that they almost invariably produced a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce the best effect and first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary system. If this was accomplished, the medicine would produce mild, but thorough elimination of the waste without the usual sickening sensations, and make the user feel better at once.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected the formula that is known as Dr. Lewis' Medicine, which I truly believe goes further and does more than any laxative on the market today. The thousands of letters from users have convinced me I was right, and that the user of Nature's Remedy as a family medicine, even though he may have used it for twenty-five years, never has to increase the dose.

My knowledge of medicine and the results of its use in my own family and among my friends, before I ever offered it for sale, caused me to have great faith in Nature's Remedy from the very first. And now I find myself nearing the age when I must bow to the inevitable and go to another life, my greatest pleasure is to sit each day and read the letters that each small brings from people as old or older than I, who tell of having used Nature's Remedy for ten, fifteen and twenty years, and how they and their children and grandchildren have been benefited by it. It is a consoling thought, my friends, for a man at my age to feel that aside from his own success, one has done something for his fellow man. My greatest satisfaction, my greatest happiness today, is the knowledge that tonight more than one million people will take Nature's Remedy (Dr. Lewis' Medicine) and will be better, healthier, happier people for it. I hope you will be one of them.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE THIRD DEGREE"—A Viagraph attraction starring Anne Joyce, the charming and talented star, is being shown today. This is an adaptation of the play of the same name by Charles Klein and is considered one of the most absorbing and, therefore, interesting pictures in which the star has ever appeared. Under the direction of Tom Terris the feature has been given an elaborate production and one calculated to rouse the highest praise. Miss Joyce is seen as the waitress wife of a young millionaire whom she marries while he is in college. The union isn't looked upon favorably by her father-in-law with the result that her husband is disinherited. When the young man goes to collect a debt from his chum the latter kills himself. His death is so mysterious that the husband is accused of his murder. How he vindicates himself through the faith of his wife and how she goes to any length to save another woman's honor, are the connecting climaxes of a powerfully absorbing photoplay. A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow Mac Murray will be featured in "The Delicious Little Devil," hailed as the greatest Murray picture ever produced.

THE SOISSON.

"A MIDNIGHT ROMANCE"—With Anita Stewart, the beautiful screen star in a charming role, is a big attraction today. Interest in the story is held by the truly feminine means by which a woman sustains interest in her own personality—by revealing only enough of it to excite further curiosity. The interiors are wonderfully realistic and beautiful. Not one of them has the disenchantment of the imperfect studio setting. In fact, there is little doubt that many of them are real. The grand assemblage of the ballroom is one of the best ever shown on the screen and it is shown at an angle that makes it a veritable moving tableau of beauty. Highly accomplished Lois Weber has done her work to perfection. The picture has held the fascinated attention of all audiences. Miss Stewart is supported by Jack Holt, Edward Tilton, Helen Yoder, and Montague Dumont. A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow George Walsh will be featured in "Never Say Quit," a William Fox feature. Mary Pickford, the idol of the screen, will appear in the near future in "Daddy Longlegs," her latest production.

THE ARCADE.

"ZARROW'S FASHIONETTES"—The opening bill of this company at the Arcade yesterday was one great screen from start to finish and had the audience in a continual uproar, such as only Zarrow productions and Zarrow artists can produce. The bill was entitled "Crusoe's Friday," and Raymond Lewis, as Friday, had the people jumping off their seats. Lewis and Bookridge responded to many enclosures in their several parody numbers. Pauline Glenmar displayed the greatest dancing ability that has been seen here for quite some time. Lotie Gibbons and Esie Zeigler delighted the audiences with their several numbers. The same bill will be on today. Tomorrow will be another whirlwind of blackface hits entitled "The Fashionette Revue," and from all indications is even better than the first offering. As in the first Raymond Lewis will be the principal laugh producer.

VEIL OF SECRECY WILL BE LIFTED AS TO MEXICO

Republicans Prepared For an Exhaustive Inquiry Into the Situation.

WHITE HOUSE SECRETIVE

American Public Mystified by Long-continued Turbulence in the Sister Republic and Lack of a Definite Policy on Part of Administration.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—With Angles and Villa active in northern Mexico and constantly recurring reports of turmoil and turbulence in that country, of which American lives and property are the victims, there is growing demand for real light on Mexican conditions. The same policy of secrecy which is complained of with respect to the negotiations at Paris, has been pursued by the administration with respect to the internal conditions in Mexico and Mexican affairs generally.

The veil of mystery which has surrounded the Mexican policy of the United States for the past six years is at last to be removed and the public, for the first time, will be permitted to ascertain the facts; to learn why conditions in Mexico continue so deplorable and the relations between Mexico and the United States are so unsatisfactory.

Representative Gould of New York has prepared a resolution, which will undoubtedly be adopted, providing for a joint committee of the Senate and House which will be empowered to make the most exhaustive inquiry into the countless phases of the Mexican situation which have bewildered the public mind for the past few years. Here are a few of the questions which this special committee will be directed to investigate:

1.—The relations of the government of the United States with the republic of Mexico from the year 1913 until the date of the report.

2.—The conditions and incidents leading up to, concerned in, or responsible for such relations.

3.—The economic, political and physical treatment accorded American and other foreign citizens in Mexico and elsewhere, as to their lives and properties in the republic of Mexico subsequent to 1910.

4.—The extent to which the government of the United States has obligated itself for the collection or liquidation of private claims against the government of people of Mexico.

5.—The policy and activity of the government in presenting and pressing claims of American citizens for loss of life and property by violence, confiscation, or legislation in seeming violation of international law.

6.—The individual and factional responsibility for robbery, maltreatment and murder of American citizens in Mexico and on contiguous American territory.

CUTICURA HEALS SCALP TROUBLE

Head Itched For a Year.
Could Not Sleep.

"My head itched for a year, and annoyed me so that I could not sleep at night. When I scratched my head, my scalp was so tender and sore that I cried. My hair became dry, and I would comb a lot out."

"Then I sent for a true sample of Cuticura. It helped so I bought more, and I was healed with two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. R. H. Runyan, 416 Anthony St., Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 7, 1918.

Make Cuticura Soap and Ointment your every-day toilet preparations. Contrast the purity, comfort and convenience of these super-gentle soaps with "scented" soaps so common, useless and expensive. A bath with Cuticura Soap and hot water thoroughly cleanses and stimulates sluggish pores, giving the scalp a fresh, healthy glow. Cuticura Talcum cleans the skin and overcomes heavy perspiration. Delicious, delightful, soothing. Soap, Cuticura and Talcum 25c each everywhere.
